Pastor's Message

A Message From

The Christian Notion Of Family

Often Christians describe themselves as a "family" of faith. This makes sense. For ages Christians have traditionally called each other "brothers" and "sisters." But, every once in a while, it is good to stop and explore our long standing traditions to see exactly what they mean. Perhaps, the original meaning has been forgotten and it would be instructive for us to explore the traditions in order to glean some meaning for today.

"Whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother"

Matthew 12:50

"Family." What word could evoke such strong emotions? When most people think of family, their minds can wander one of two ways. Many people's minds wander to feelings of a warm, loving environment where they are accepted no matter what. They think of people who will support them through their triumphs and their failures. That is family.

However, "family" does not always evoke such warm feelings. There is a significant amount of people who had a household that was anything but warm, loving, and supportive. Abuse may have darkened these people's notions of "family." Conflict and refusal to forgive may taint their ideas of what a family can be.

One problem with Christians using the term "family" is that family is usually a closed group that cannot easily let new, unrelated people in.

However, Jesus' idea of "family" is vastly different. When teaching in a crowded house, Jesus' mother and brothers were trying to get to him. When asked to give his family privilege in entering through the crowds, Jesus responded: "Who is my mother, and who are my brothers?" And pointing to his disciples, he said, "Here are my mother and my brothers! For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother" (Matthew 12:48-50).

There is no doubt that Jesus loved his mother and siblings, but Jesus' idea of family is so much more. Jesus' idea of family includes everyone who seeks to live a life in tune with God the Father. Jesus' family is not exclusive, the house of the Lord is not full, and the door leading to his family is not shut. "Knock and the door will be opened." Our church family is the same. It is not exclusive, it is never full, and the door is never shut. All who seek a life with God are a part of our family.

The Question Box

(Questions About Our Christian Life)

"Is it OK to cry and miss someone? Isn't that a sign that I do not trust God?"

1 Thessalonians 4:13 says, "But we do not want you to be uninformed, brothers and sisters, about those who have died, so that you may not grieve as others do who have no hope." It does not say we do not grieve, just that with our grief we also have hope. – Pastor Jira Albers

A Closer Look at the Bible – Pastor Jira Albers

Genesis: The Spirit

I would like to take you on a journey into the first chapters of Genesis and explore the Bible's description of the "Spirit." What we translate as "Spirit" is the Hebrew word "ruakh." Ruakh can be translated "breath," "Spirit," or "wind." When we translate it, we should be keeping all three translations in mind. The idea is that God keeps us alive by giving us breath. In Genesis, it is God's "Spirit" or "breath" or "wind" that hovers over the waters and gives life to all.

Just to set you up for this image, I want you to delete from your mind (for just a moment anyway) our modern ideas of what the cosmos was like before God created. We tend to think of black space. We tend to think of the nothingness that exists between the stars. For a moment I want you to delete that image and I want to invite you into the image of what things were like before creation for the writers of the Hebrew Bible (Old Testament). The image that came to mind for them when they considered the time before God created was a vast, chaotic expanse of water. It is over this scene of watery chaos that God's Spirit hovers. Genesis 1:2 reads: "and the land was wild and waste; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters." The blowing of God's wind, the movement of God's Spirit, the breath from the words that God spoke brought order out of the chaos. This is powerful imagery, especially when our own lives feel like nothing but chaos. God is able to blow God's Spirit into our chaos and create order.

This is not the only time we see God's breath used in the act of creating. In Genesis, chapter 2, we see another powerful image of what God's creation was like. Here, instead of chaos waters being the state of things before creation, the writer describes it like a barren desert where there is not life. All there that exists is dead desert. But, water soon springs up out of the land, mixing with the dirt. Genesis 2:7 then tells us that "the LORD God formed man from the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and the man became a living being." God shapes mud into a human, exhales breath into the mud, and the human comes to life. If you are alive, you have God's Spirit filling you with life. Every breath is a literal gift from God. God's Spirit brings everything to life, and without it, all life is taken away. In fact, the Bible describes people's breath being taken away (death). "When you take away their breath, they die and return to their dust. When you send forth your Spirit, they are created" (Psalm 104:29-30). This is an acknowledgement of our dependence on God's "ruakh."

We see this idea of Ruakh, God wind, taking away life right away in the story of Adam and Eve. As you may recall, the first woman and man were told they could eat anything in the garden of Eden, except from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. But, at the urging of the crafty serpent, they see that the fruit of that tree is good for food and they take and eat. In other words, they desire to have knowledge for themselves, rather than to trust God and God's wisdom. Our inability to trust God is the source of so many problems in this world, and this story establishes it as the primary problem. After the man and woman eat and notice that they are naked. The Bible says in Genesis 3:8 that "they heard the voice of Yahweh God walking in the garden in the cool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of Yahweh God amongst the trees of the garden." This is a poor translation; because it evokes an image of a peaceful breeze blowing as God enters the scene. But, the voice of God is the Ruakh of God. And, like a parent who has discovered that their child has done something very wrong and is going to confront them, the angry wind storm of Yahweh God comes through the trees of the garden. It is fearful enough that the man and woman hide from God among the trees. When the wind storm arrives, there are consequences to the woman and the man eating from the tree from which they were not to eat. This brings up another important aspect of God's Spirit/Wind/Breath: it can also be used to enact judgment and destroy. God Spirit brings life, but when we have chosen paths that lead to death, that Spirit can be withdrawn and death will follow; after which God can breathe something new into existence again.

We see this in the Noah story where the world has become evil and God allows the chaos waters to reclaim creation. All are destroyed except for Noah and those on the ark. In Genesis 8:1 we read that "God remembered Noah, and every living thing, and all the cattle that were with him in the ark: and God made a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters subsided." Here the breath/Spirit/Wind of God returns to create once again.

WE MATTER TO THE WHOLE CHURCH: A STORY FROM OUR SOUTHWESTERN PENNSYLVANIA SYNOD

Being a member of a congregation council is significant in the life of a disciple. Serving as a leader in a congregation is rewarding, terrifying, awe-inspiring and messy. You are among friends, family and your community of believers, and are chosen to lead in your congregation. It's just a few times a month, but as Barbara Nugent, a synod vice president, shares, "Then life happens, and you find out the reporting required. Situations occur; personalities clash; decisions need to be made. Who do you go to for direction?"

The Southwestern Pennsylvania Synod provided that direction in February when it offered training to 70 congregational lay leaders that strengthened each person's skills and faith. From evangelism to the ELCA constitution and bylaws, they gathered to meet the passions and needs, offering workshops with special breakouts for presidents, vice presidents, secretaries and treasurers that covered such topics as worship and music, communications, advocacy, stewardship and social justice/anti-racism. The day started with Bishop Kurt Kusserow encouraging these valued leaders to keep the focus on our purpose:

“Your leadership in the life of your congregation ought always to bear in mind that your congregation finds its fulfillment in the universal church, and that the universal church exists in and through congregations such as yours. I think this means addressing local questions and concerns in the life of your congregation as if they matter to the whole church (because they do).”

Everyone was hungry to gather ideas, consider future steps but also have an opportunity to connect, be empowered, feel valued and cared for and remember the excitement of being church. Rev. Melissa Stoller, director for evangelical mission, said it this way: “The day was a very visible yet not necessarily quantifiable force that we are church together. Wandering but not alone. Feeling worry, power, uncertainty, and joy as one.” Central to this gathering was living into the mission of this synod “to serve, connect and equip congregations of the SWPA synod to tell the story of Jesus.” Everyone knew that the synod was there for the congregations with staff, volunteers and greater church support, not only this day but in the days to come, and synod staff are supported through the generous mission support of congregations allowing them to be there for our leaders. One leading Scripture for the day reminded each leader of their value: “Therefore, friends, select from among yourselves seven men of good standing, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint to this task, while we, for our part, will devote ourselves to prayer and to serving the word” (Acts 6:3-4). Hoping each of our synods are seeking ways that work for them to encourage and empower congregational leaders. Knowing that we are church together, church that supports each other across the whole church prayerfully, financially, emotionally and with a hope for renewal.

Our Synod has PRIDE

June is Pride Month which celebrates LGBTQIA+ folx and their many achievements.

Although injustices and prejudices still exist within our society, we have made great strides since the Stonewall Riots in 1969, attaining marriage equality. However, as previously mentioned, we still have a long way to go in the struggle for equal rights. By learning about LGBTQ Pride/History Month, congregational members are more likely to have an understanding and acceptance for all individuals, no matter what they look like, what gender they do or don't identify as, and who they love. Consider celebrating PRIDE in your congregation!
